

What Makes a Good TAF?

We are building a future where every baby, child, and young person, is seen, heard, and supported to thrive.

Child & Family First

- Child's voice is heard
- Families involved in decisions
- Plans reflect what matters to them

Start with Strengths

- Focus on what's going well
- Build confidence & trust
- Use strengths to support change

Clear, Simple Plans

- What needs to happen?
- Who will do it?
- When will it be done?
- No vague actions!

Lead Professional

- Main contact for the family
- Keeps things on track
- Supports the children & families to participate in decisions

Working Together

- Right agencies involved
- Shared responsibility
- Good communication

Keep It Simple

- Jargon-free language
- Easy to understand
- Families feel heard

Review & Adapt

- Regular review meetings
- Celebrate progress
- Change what's not working

A Good TAF Feels...

- Supportive
- Organised
- Respectful
- Focused on outcomes

Right people + Clear plan + Family voice = Effective TAF
